Mastering Challenges

Therapeutic Interventions in the Classroom

Airetta Myrick

Gives step by step direction of implementing counseling services to students while they are in their classrooms. The manual contains exercises which stimulate problem solving, self analysis, coping skills, and stress and anger management. The exercises are thought provoking, realistic, and sound enough like their own experiences that they enthusiastically engage in the counseling activity with their peers.

Find out what you were not taught in graduate school! Enhance your clinical skills by learning practical methods to deal with PTSD and other trauma-related conditions. Our Accelerated Traumatology Course enables you to treat nightmares, flashbacks, emotional numbing, and dissociation; safely process traumatic memories without re-living them; address chronic suicidal thinking; deal with self-mutilation; and stop command hallucinations. The training is a four-day didactic course (30 hours of lectures, case presentations, experiential sessions, and video examples) and a week-long practicum in our clinic during which you follow a patient through his/her intensive trauma therapy (35 hours of individual sessions).
